G-ROBOT

ROBOTICS IN PANEL-SAWING

In the past, operators had to do repetitive and strenuous off-loading jobs manually, but now the use of robotized equipment has made life easier for them, optimizing output in the process.

In practice, entrusting the perpetual repetition of identical movements to a robot has the effect of securing greater freedom to program for constant quality and profitability.

Once again Giben has shown the way forward in panel-sawing, confirming its credentials as a dependable partner in the development of innovative solutions.
